

REFERENCE – drinking water Flora Inc., Lynden, Washington 98264, USA

Products: DOLOMIT

The pioneer and one of the leading companies for natural health products in organic quality.

Naturalness and sustainability are very important to us. That's why we use only organically grown raw materials to produce our high quality health products.

These are processed in technically advanced machines and systems with the lowest possible environmental impact.

Through constant research and development, Flora has created some of the world's best manufacturing processes.

„As EWO products meet our standards for high quality manufacturing processes, we have selected them for water vitalization and hard water handling.

We are very satisfied with the effect of the devices and therefore recommend you EWO at all times.“
