Landhaus Stift Ardagger, 3300 Amstetten, Austria

Products: CLASSIC

In this venerable house with a special ambience, cuisine and history can be experienced.

Located in the immediate vicinity of the abbey and originally from the 13th century, it served many different purposes over the centuries.

But now, after the successful renovation, this building has found its final destination as a place of hospitality and well-being.

Even with the important topic of water, nothing was left to chance.

„We had a classic water softener in operation for a few months, but it soon became apparent that this type of water treatment was not a viable solution for us. By the subsequent installation of two EWO water revitalization devices, we have finally found a natural and working solution for our house.

We are extremely satisfied with EWO's natural water revitalization and the excellent performance of these devices! As water consumption in the catering industry is becoming increasingly important, it is important for us to offer only the best quality to our guests.

Finally, we are very happy to have taken this important step and are happy to recommend the advanced EWO technology.“
